

WM. P. BROOKS,

AMHERST, MASS.

Miss R. C. Brooks
Amwell
Mass

Massachusetts Agricultural College.

Office of the Professor of Agriculture.

WM. P. BROOKS.

Amherst, Mass., Oct. 12 1891.

My dear sister:

Your letter in regard to your money has been received. Take your bills to any National Bank and if recognizable they will redeem them at their face value. Should you have any trouble there, then I would get Fortin to take them to the Sub Treasury (U. S.) in Boston. Even there, however, the bills must be recognizable or they will not be taken. If recognizable any National Bank will take them and any one can get the money. I do not think it worth while to send you any old bills if your object is only what Martha wrote. Mine hardly lay at all. I feel under obligation to you, however, as you sold your bill to accom-